

EURAXESS ASEAN Flashnote

20 March 2017

Seminar on “The Current State of Research in ASEAN – an analysis of co-publication and co-patenting activity.” 30 March in Singapore and 31 March in Bangkok

Southeast Asia has doubled its share of the world's research publication output over the last decade. The number of annual international patent applications involving ASEAN-based inventors has tripled from the early 2000s to the early 2010s. A research team of the EU-funded SEA-EU-NET project carried out a study assessing the research output in ASEAN Member States from 2000 to 2014. The lead author of the study, Alexander Degelsegger, Centre for Social Innovation, Austria will present the key findings and other key scientometric figures on Southeast Asian research and discuss what lessons hide behind them. Ten years of the European Research Council: A European Success Story

The European Research Council (ERC), established by the EU to support excellent researchers in Europe, has backed scores of them, including six who later received Nobel Prizes. ERC grants also created career opportunities for some 50,000 research staff, resulted in numerous scientific breakthroughs and led to over 800 patent applications that lay the foundations for growth and jobs, and the improvement of people's daily lives. Europe: Call for 10 PhD Fellowships. The “European Network on Anti-Cancer Immuno-Therapy Improvement by Modification of CAR and TCR Interactions and Nanoscale Geometry.” ASEAN Students Eligible. Final Deadline 1 May, 2017

The EN-ACTI²NG (European Network on Anti-Cancer Immuno-Therapy Improvement by modification of CAR and TCR Interactions and Nanoscale Geometry) Initial Training Network, funded by the H2020 Marie Skłodowska-Curie Actions program, emanates from the recent clinical evidence that T cells expressing engineered tumor-specific immune receptors can eradicate certain tumors that do not respond to conventional treatment. This important therapeutic approach (considered by the journal Science ‘Scientific Breakthrough of the Year’ in December 2013) is still in a very early phase of development and currently requires a well-trained workforce to address a number of challenges.
